

The Sacrifice

Symphony X

Your Eyes singing to me sweet lullabies
While you lay there in submission
Forbidden desire
Alone in the moonlight hearts afire
Burn away our inhibitions When the stars lose their fire
And night steals the morning away
Forever and a day
I will stay, I will stay here with you my love Sacrifice a heart beat away from paradise
All my reasons given way to temptation
Fear and shame
Looking for someone else to blame
We're devoured by these foolish accusations With every fleeting breath I take Maybe our love was a mistake
Eternal life, I traded it for one moment beside you When the stars lose their fire
And night steals the morning away
Forever and a day I will stay, I will stay here with you my love When the stars lose their fire
And night steals the morning away
Forever and a day When the stars lose their fire
And night takes the morning away
Forever and a day
I will stay, I will stay here with you, my love
