

Business

Treble Charger

There's better ways to let me know
Leave a message, slip a note
In a place I'll never find
Should be careful of what you say
Could all catch up to you someday
Ignore it twice, you know, it won't go away
But every time I listen
I get your words stuck in my head
And I know it's not my business
Do I mean anything at all?
'Cause I've been waiting for so long

Someone tell me what went wrong
Am I still getting dragged along?
I've got the scars to prove it
You say you're happy and content
But every fight's the main event
And now I'm in the corner spitting blood and spent
But every time I listen
I get your words stuck in my head
And I don't think I see things
Quite the same as you would want me to
'Cause I can't be that cruel
