Cold Enough to Break

Knapsack

It's cold enough to break
Beneath the weight of this mistake
And no one can tell me it's alrightI hope it's not too late
For the man who's less than brave
And no one can tell me but no one can tellDeny the charges, call collect Fodding over the failed attempt
And I am failing you
There are answers, never tell
Sharing rooms with cancer cells
I am not immuneCall out and come down
I finally recognize
Tired angels barely able
Keep me safe tonightIt's cold enough to break
Beneath the weight of this mistake
And no one can tell me it's alrightI hope it's not too late
For the man who's less than brave
And no one can tell me but no one can tellWe're keeping quiet and we'll decide
What's desperation, sick inside
I am not allowedThere are reasons I will keep Ever-hopeful fall asleep
I can show you howCall out and come down
I finally recognize
Tired angels barely able
Keep me safe tonightIt's cold enough to break
Beneath the weight of this mistake
And no one can tell me it's alright

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/