

A Skeletal Domain

Cannibal Corpse

Trapped beneath rotting remains
A slow decay of life takes its form Withered death and bone emerge
From cemeteries of the earth
Replacing all that is known from this world Towering structures take shape
As more cities are laid to waste Survivors of this morbid fate
The reborn meek not live not dead
Are left to start a new
Misshapen half mutated
Not a zombie not a human
Evil creatures grew Not one thing left alive but them
The strongest will begin to reign A new society takes place
Where the way of the Cannibal
Rules in this skeletal domain A kingdom of the damned Carnal war consuming them by Eating flesh for nourishment
Solution for a short-term survival Slaughtered are the weakest first
Feeding those with evil thirst
As blood of the dead saturates the ground Again the end has begun
Another kingdom will be damned Survivors of this morbid fate
The reborn meek not live not dead
Are left to start a new Misshapen and half mutated
Not a zombie not a human
Evil creatures grew Not one thing left alive but them
The strongest will begin to reign A new society takes place
Where the way of the cannibal
Rules in this skeletal domain Survivors of this morbid fate
The reborn meek not live not dead
Are left to start a new Misshapen and half mutated
Not a zombie not a human
Evil creatures grew Not one thing left alive but them
The strongest will begin to reign A new society takes place
Where the way of the Cannibal
Rules in this skeletal domain
