

Demons and Angels

Diamond Rio

He swore it was over
And all in his past
A few hours later
His hand's 'round a glass
A voice on the left says,
"There's peace in the wine"
From the right a voice whispers,
"Don't do it this time"
When he looks for the answer
Down in his heart
Demons and angels
Tear him apart
She calls his name softly
As she lies in their bed
Listens for footsteps
And prays for the best
She knows that he loves her
Knows that he tries
But if he comes home drinking
She'll leave him tonight
She waits for the answer and
Cries in the dark
While demons and angels
Tear him apart
For so long they've fought for his soul
The whiskey and the woman at home
And they all know he must choose
The winner alone
There's not much that's sweeter
Than a new life begun
Ain't much that's sadder
Than a promise undone
He stares at the bottle,
Longs for her arms
While demons and angels
Tear him apart
When he looks for the answer
Down in his heart
There's demons and angels
That tear him apart
