

Tragedy

Brandi Carlile

Sorry I'm only human you know me
Grown up, oh no guess again
My days always dry up and blow away
Sometimes I could do that too
Make no mistake in When you need a friend
You could count on anyone
But you know I'll defend
The tragedy that we knew as the end Progress, changing
Growing then giving up
Somehow we're never quite prepared
But I understand it When you need a friend
You could count on anyone
But you know I'll defend
The tragedy that we knew as the end So taking you with me would be like
Taking all your money to the grave
Well it does no good to anyone especially
The one you're trying to save
But it's so hard not to save And when you need a friend
Hey you could count on anyone
But you know I'll defend
Tragedy that we knew as the end
