Kill The Beast

PowerSteel

And you put yourself onto the cross
And build your wounds to cover spite
So I can't be the man that martyrs you tonight'Cause we're all paying heavy costs
So leave your speeches with your soapbox
We might be patient but we're still lost
Spitting blood and bleeding all of usJust look what you've become
Will you answer now to the found
And to the hopeless?And if I could leave this place
A memory locked up with my darkest secrets
I'd be alright, it's what we need but especially meSo cover sins in rhythms beating
Tell the ones who once retreated
We killed the beast, we're all home free
If home is where they wanna beCount this emotion as a scar
Just a healed but dark reminder
A long and steady marker
Of the holes you dug in meAnd if I could leave this place
A memory locked up with my darkest secrets
I'd be alright, it's what we need but especially meSo cover sins in rhythms beating
Tell the ones who once retreated
We killed the beast, we're all home free
If home is where they wanna be
Oh, if home is where they wanna beSo cover sins in rhythms beating
Tell the ones who once retreated
Oh, we killed the beast
Oh, we caught and killed the beastAnd if I could leave this place
A memory locked up with my darkest secrets
I'd be alright, it's what we need but especially meSo cover sins in rhythms beating
Tell the ones who once retreated
We killed the beast, we're all home free
If home is where they wanna beOh but it's home where they wanna be
