Past Lives

DIIV

I was your home and you locked yourself outside and ran with your ghosts back to a place youd already known.
Nowhere to crawl but to your past life and hid from it all a buried flower convinced youll grow kept enough to remind but stayed outside
With nowhere to go.
You left nowhere to go.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/