Firedream

Flowing Tears

one night we stole the sky the moon was bright, our sorrow pale one night we left behind the moralized, the sons of Cainone night we sold the sky the son of light, the enemy one night to testify 2nd sight, the mirror-playone night we buried the sky for our God, for the devil and hate one night we rose a smile for a life inside a cageno word can describe all my fright no colour my pain
defy them
stir the fire
bright as no starlight could rainone night we kissed goodbye the merry child, the feverdream one night to play divine to cut the wings of Seraphimone night we coloured the sky white for God, black for hell and our names one night as if paralyzed put our love inside a cageno word can describe all my fright
stir the fire
bright as no starlight could raini
