One More Night

Dwight Yoakam

One more night and I know
That I'll be over you
Yeah, one more night and I know
Ah, that the worst is through
And if I can make this heart
Just believe it too
Then one more night and I know
That I'll be over you
One more night and I know
That I'll forget your voice
Yeah, one more night and I know
That I can make that choice
And ignore the awful sounds
That come when love's destroyed
Because one more night and I know
That I'll forget your voice
I'll escape it, if I learn to take it
And just survive two or three
Of the next million thoughts
That I have about you and me
I'll escape it, if I learn to take it
And just survive two or three
Of the next million thoughts
That I have about you and me
One more night, one more night
Yeah, one more night, oh, one more night
Oh, one more, one more night
One more, one more, one more night
Yeah, one more night, one more
One more, one more, one more night
