Surrender

Jeremy Camp

Purify this tainted soul
I'm tired of living life a fool
Soften up this hardened clay
To be a servant this I pray
A reflection of You I long to be
So Your kingdom I will seek
And I surrender to Your throne
Oh, I surrender to Your throne
And I will make my heart Your home
Oh, I surrender to Your throne
I've taken things I thought my own
And only to reap all I've sown
You've given back the years I've fought
Unending love and grace You've brought Eternal hope and peace You bring
And forever unto You I will sing
And I surrender to Your throne
Oh, I surrender to Your throne
And I will make my heart Your home
Oh, I surrender to Your throne
Forever unto You I will sing
Forever unto You I will sing
Forever unto You I will sing
Forever unto You I will sing
And I surrender, and I surrender, and I surrender now
Oh, I surrender, and I surrender, and I surrender now
Oh, I surrender, I surrender, and I surrender now
Oh, I surrender, I surrender, and I surrender now
Soften up this hardened clay
To be a servant this I pray
