

Gift

Sugar

And I received this gift from you
Pleasantly surprised, I never thought you'd realize that maybe
I have taken this from you
And if I was deserving, who am I to disagree?
And how can I refuse this even if I don't deserve it And now, I give this gift to you
I could have got you anything but this will have to do
It's how I give this gift to you
Doesn't seem like much, but it's the best that I could do
I'm giving everything away before I go for good And once you give the gift away
There's nothing you can do about it
Nothing that you do or say
Can change the way I feel about it Try to look inside of me
To find the gift that I am giving
Glad you had a chance to see
The gift that I'm delivering
