

Living Your Dream

The Plot In You

Give up (give up), cut me up (thrown away)

[?] your fault that I can't takeWho knows, who knows

Who knows, who knowsYou think you got me, you think you got me figured out
[?] and you're quick to judge things [?] taking the time to see for yourselfI've been living your dream

And I don't ever wanna wake up

Another voice for the fucked up[?] of the pain when we were young

You're selfish too and nothing can phase you

What's changed?Do you wish I was dead

Do you, do you pray I'm a lost cause

Was it something I did

[?] til it's all gone

I've been living your dream

I've been living your dream

Living your dream

You call me a dead man

You said I'd never fucking make it to this [?]

And I'm so glad to see your life start to crumble

While I'm living your dream
