

Please Come Home

PEACH KELLI POP

I miss when you I wake up at night, dreaming of when things were alright
I miss your laugh and the way you spoke to me, when things were different between you & me
I miss you every afternoon, thinking of you in my bedroom
We didn't always agree, but you always stood up for me
Time's slowing down, since your not around
My hearts turning to stone, please come home
Sorry for the times I wasn't nice, now you're gone and I'm paying the price
I promise to turn things around, and I hope you won't turn me down
You always took care of me, you were patient when I was angry
We've been through so much, around the world and a car crash
Time's slowing down, since your not around
My hearts turning to stone, please come home
