

Things Will Never Be the Same

Got A Girl

Stop
You say no more
And when you leave, please close the door
I don't want to know what a waste you've been Beyond these walls I'm not to care
You're with me, so keep your hands clean
Yes
I know my place
Dying more with each embrace
Dim the lights, stay in the dark
To keep my world when we're apart
Your secret's safe with me
Because I don't wanna know
I can't believe you'd do such a thing
That I'm made to fear your name
No I can't believe
What is killing me
Is that we'll never be the same
Look, make no mistake
This blindness I am forced to fake
Take your battered knuckles and your swollen ego
I'm in this far too deep to let go
Baby did you do it all for me?
Your, did you stop to see
The fool that you have made of me?
Am I your trophy girl?
Am I your little flower that you use to show the world your power?
Baby soon you'll see the real me
How much I really know
I can't believe you'd do such a thing
That I'm made to fear your name
No I can't believe
What is killing me
Is that we'll never be the same
Don't know why
But I still love you
Even though one day
I'll rise above you
I can't believe you'd do such a thing
That I'm made to fear your name
No I can't believe
What is killing me
Is that we'll never be the same
