

Through the Veils of Darkness

Gehenna

I leave this world behind in absence of my body Where trails of troubled souls shall lead the way I swore to return to this place of suffering And when I see the demons eye stare at me I know my time has come and all I could do has been done Brought to the end of my tail
I stop and behold all the different worlds
I am shapeless, dead and lost for words...
