

Clouds

Redrama

Single mom working two jobs, struggling
What she wouldn't do for some calm, she juggling
Two sons, a daughter on her arm, she love her kids
Never ever she'd let somebody harm or cause suffering
People telling her: " talk to God, put your trust in him "
But she believe that like I believe the government
She got divorced, he cheated and beat her up
And " World's Best Dad " it said on her tea-cup
It gets the darkest before the sunrise
She see the light in her daughter and sons' eyes
See what I mean if you've seen her then you would know
Outside, inside she's beautiful

Bridge

She got the note of eviction
The rent's due, got bills by the million
All alone trying to raise three children
And she's feeling
Like she just can't take no more

Chorus

Don't worry just let me blow
All of your grey clouds away
I promise I'll never leave you
Alone in the rain

I huff and I puff
And I blow them away
I huff and I puff
Blow your clouds away

Verse 2

See I move with conviction
Better get used to dude, I'm non-fiction
A cold world, easy to hate so love's missing
I'm trying to be as great as I am and up-lifted
It's for the kid st- st- stuttering, no-one listens
Mad at the world, he's shutting out all assistance
Mom's 12 steps from guzzling on the gin and
Dad left so " why the f is he in the pictures? "

For everybody who's struggling with addiction
Everybody who lost loved-ones to this illness
Waiting in line, they stuck you up in the system
Still I know love is up in the building

Bridge

She got the note of eviction
The rent's due, got bills by the million
All alone trying to raise three children
And she's feeling
Like she just can't take no more

Chorus

Don't worry just let me blow
All of your grey clouds away
I promise I'll never leave you
Alone in the rain

I huff and I puff
And I blow them away
I huff and I puff
Blow your clouds away

Lyrics submitted by Samantha.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>