listen now my sweet anne i never meant to cause you pain we coulda spent all summer sittin here makin daisy chains
i lie awake at night starin off my roof
now your gone for weeks ive had your pretty face hangin in my brain its suspended like the reflection in a window pane you hang just like a ghost over city streets
now your gone
oh listen now my sweet anne i never meant to cause you pain we coulda spent all summer here makin daisy chains
