

Loving You

Ron Sexsmith

Behind the veil of mist the dawn is breaking
To blind us with its kiss upon awaking
Pull back the morning curtain
A day that is most uncertain
But as sure as I am living I'll be loving you
Inside your beating heart is where I'm living
To guide me through the darkness, unforgiving
You taught me to taste the chatter
The world with the right answers
Please understand
While I am living, I'll be loving you
Underneath the sky, above the ground
I wander see and I, following the sound
Of our own song
Behind the twilight veil the sun's descending
It's kind without fail is never ending
There by the grace go I
Though I may never know why
But as sure as I am living I'll be loving you
Yes as long as I am living I'll be loving you
