

Fallout

Sonic Syndicate

This is the verity for a lot of you
And how you always stand
From the outside looking in
Now did you ever feel you are so open minded
That you don't really belong anywhere
Well I've been there too Why are these vultures circling over me
I'm not dead yet
Used silence as a language for too long
This is where we make our stand
The wounds at my back begin to heal
Our enemy outnumber us three to one
But still we fight on Someone has to build
Even if it's servere
A brigde between the worlds
We shoulder it for you
All borders will be removed
To create a better existence I spend two years
To figure out myself
I say it's your time now
Your time to rise
This isn't your only choice
But your best choice
Refuse to stay put and watch this cancer grow
Until it explodes, we must interfere
Before the shit hits the fan Someone has to build
Even if it's servere
A brigde between the worlds
We shoulder it for you
All borders will be removed
To create a better existence This goes out to all you people
Who have been mistreated and abused
For what you believe in
This song is for you The only freedom you'll ever get
Is your own mind and thoughts
Even if tyrants try to hold you down
They can never take that away from you Why are these vultures circling over me
I'm not dead yet
Used silence as a language for too long
This is where we make our stand

The wounds at my back begin to heal
Our enemy outnumber us three to one
But still we fight onSomeone has to build
Even if it's servere
A brigde between the worlds
We shoulder it for you
All borders will be removed
To create a better existenceSomeone has to build
Even if it's servere
A brigde between the worlds
We shoulder it for you
All borders will be removed
To create a better existenceTo create a better existence
To create a better existence
To create a better existence
To create a better existence

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>