The Impossible Dream

Malcolm Roberts

Sometimes it seems so strange
The way I feel for you
It makes my life so quiet and free
And when you smile at me
It's just that special love
A kind of liberty I never felt before
And I don't need to be a poet
I don't need to be a hero
When all I need to do is keep on loving you
I just have to be me and I don't need to be
The stranger anymore I used to be
In my impossible dream
I keep my fingers crossed
I never want to lose
This new found world that's so alive, Angel
I'm so in love with you
My heart has circled in the past
The demons of deceit
But now aside I've cast.
And I don't need to be a poet
I don't need to be a hero,
When all I need to do is keep on loving you
I just have to be me

And I don't need to be
The stranger anymore
I used to be
In my impossible dream
And I don't need to be a poet
I don't need to be a hero,
When all I need to do is keep on loving you
I just have to be me
And I don't need to be
The stranger anymore
I used to be
In my impossible dream
[SPOKEN]And sometimes it seems so strange, the way I feel for you,
It makes my life so quiet, and free.
And I don't need to be a poet

I don't need to be a hero,
When all I need to do is keep on loving you
I just have to be me
And I don't need to be
The stranger anymore
I used to be
In my impossible dream
