Calamity Is Overrated

Ages and Ages

Through the flurry I saw trouble come
Then the smoke that rose like signals
Telling me something was off
You can wait around however
Long it takes to see so for yourself
Or gather what you want and come along'Cause a pause is the only time it takes
For them to get a jump on us, woah
So if you're staying in, you'd best be braced
But if you're coming out then let's just goBut I can see an opening from here
And the the sound of so many voices
Making the rest disappear
'Cause everything that came before this serves no purpose
Let's get one thing straight
Our past is in the ashes, are we clear?'Cause where we were there was no cause, woah
Worthy of a sacrifice, woah
I tell you that there's still hope now, yeah
But it was never there, so here we go, woah woah woahWoah, woah woah woah
Woah, woah woah woah
Woah, woah woah woahFree from the undertow
I ain't ever gonna go down
Free from the undertow
I ain't ever gonna go downFree from the undertow
I ain't ever gonna go down
Free from the undertow
I ain't ever gonna go down
