

The Bridges You Burn

Coal Chamber

Let's go!
Some things cannot be forgotten
Nothing in life can be so certain
It's just the way it creeps under my cold skin
Don't be so quick to judge from the outside
Don't be so quick to give in to your pride
'Cause it gets under my cold skin

Watching you walk
May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion
I'm watching you walk
May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion

Let's go!
Now my shields are useless
Only when it senses my weakness
Or am I so mistaken
Approach and knock 3 times
And you'll find that you'll be denied this time
And labelled forgotten

I'm coming up just to hold you down, hold you down
I'm coming up just to hold you down, hold you down

Watching you walk
May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion
I'm watching you walk
May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion

I'm watching you walk, just walk away
Watching you walk, just walk away
Watching you walk,
May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion

Just walk away
Just walk
Just walk
Just walk
Just walk
Just walk away

Just walk away

Into oblivion

I grit my teeth and bite my tongue

If i start now I don't know

Where it will end or what it will become

What it will become

Watching you walk

May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion

I'm watching you walk

May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion

I'm watching you walk, just walk away

Watching you walk, just walk away

Watching you walk, watch you walk away

Watching you walk, just walk away

Walk into oblivion

May the bridges you burn light your way into oblivion

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>