Standing Next to Me

The Last Shadow Puppets

You want to have her, two years have gone now
But I can't relate to the never ending games that you play
As desire passes through then you're open to the truth
I hope you understandAnd your love is standing next to me, is standing next to meThe one you fell for makes it seem juvenile
And you laugh at yourself again and again
As you'll drink to the thoughts she'll remember you
Maybe tomorrowOh, and your love is standing next to me, is standing next to me
And your love is standing next to me, is standing next to me
Is standing next to me, is standing next to meYou want to have her, two years have gone now
But I can't relate to the never ending games that you play
As desire passes through then you're open to the truth
I hope you understandAnd your love is standing next to me, is standing next to me
Is standing next to me, is standing next to me
