Road to You

Cynic

Walking away now, taking your time, dreaming in circles Finding your place now, once on the line searching for your well Now that the doors been closed, I felt my shelter burning
I have no way now of getting back home,
I'm finding the meaning now

She became the answer,
she became the fire
and her new world is burning
An old flame to you a long road to you

Painful enchanter, naked and blind sighing for warfare Patron and dancer, can't seem to find, fighting for nowhere.

Blaming your needs inside, minding the storm you churn to I have no way of fighting your fight, that's something you must do.

She became the answer,
she became the fire
and her new world is burning
An old flame to you...

(lady's singing solo)

Walking away now, taking my time, dreaming in circles Finding this place now, searching within, love is the answer Starving the pain inside,
I found my peace without you I have a way now, of blessing this home miracles shine through now

She became the answer,

she became the fire
and her new world is burning
An old flame to you

She became the answer,
she became the fire
and her new world is burning
An old flame to you
a long road to you.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/