Hellogoodbye

I built this house with my own hands
But she just came and heard the plans
She found the safe and cracked the code
She grabbed the goods and hit the road
And I'm feeling dumb
Oh, oh, girl, you're the one
Who shut off my electricity
Explained we just lack chemistry
And on the walls and on the shelves
She hung up pictures of herself
And I'm keeping one
Oh, oh, girl, you're the one
Who makes it hard to lock my doors at night
Even my fire alarm won't work right
And as I try to sleep I glance next door
And all I see is his lips touching yours, oh, girl
I will dig a hole and label it love
And trick her to fall in from above
Strategically placed at the front door
I'll coax her to come back to get more
Oh girl, you're the one
Oh, oh girl
Who makes it hard to lock my doors at night
Even my fire alarm won't work right
And as I try to sleep I glance next door
And all I see is his lips touching yours, oh, girl
Who makes it hard to lock my doors at night
Even my fire alarms won't work right
And as I try to sleep I glance next doors
And all I see is his lips touchings yours, oh, girl
