

Little Boat

CoCo and The Butterfields

Who is this girl?
Who is this guy, who hears her voice amongst anger's noise, and knows her tears?
Do happy endings always start sad?
Has it always been do good to make it this bad?
This boy has given up trying to find why he hurts so much
But he could come and find me, or hide behind possibilities So what will you choose?
I kind of think that, I have been kind to you Why don't you go and build yourself a little boat and drift along to sea?
Me then, wrap yourself in his arms and try to become everything that I couldn't be It is not fair that there's a song that you can't hear
And it is not cool, you've become too familiar with blue Store all your grief and count sheep so you can sleep
Unload your burdens onto me
Just neglect your past Careful that the future isn't coming on too fast now that you have moved along to turn up that song, it goes Da da dum, da da dum, da da da da da da On and on, why don't you go and build yourself a little boat and drift along to sea?
Wrap yourself in his arms and try to become everything that I couldn't be So what will you choose?
I kind of think that, I have been kind to you Why don't you go and build yourself a little boat and drift along to sea?
Me then, wrap yourself in his arms and try to become everything that I couldn't be Find your friend and tell her,
that you've really missed her
Ask her why she's feeling incomplete
Without a boat to sail on, those waves are so strong
But at least you are free Da da da dum da da dum da da dum da da da da da

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>