husband&wife

The days are gone
So I begin
To make an excuse for all of my friends
And this appetite

The days are long
So I commit
Myself to this spite for revenge
Of this appetite

And all you want to hold on to
Are the brights and shines of this world
And they only ones I want to belong to
To belong to

The fastest cars
And fastest girls
Are making plans with their friends on the front lawn
To crash here tonight

The brightest lights
And last goodbyes
Resonate down the halls where the company keeps you from sleep tonight

And all you want to hold on to
Are the brights and shines of this world
And the only ones I want to belong to
To belong to

I didn't leave
But I feel so far away
I feel so far away

I didn't leave
But I feel so far away
I feel so far away

I didn't leave
But I feel so far away

I feel so far away
