

Face the World

Lucky 7

Hey, you walk into my room, you sit down by my side and that alright.
You light a cigarette and share a glass of mine.
You make small talk with me to pass the time.
Hey, I've seen this place before and you rely on me to try to decide.
But every moment reminds of the pain.
I try to get back on my feet again.
Hey, it's another place in time.
Just another hill that I can climb.
Hey, I don't want to face the world.
So get back on your own and I won't cry.
I read the letters that you gave to me,
of things you say I should and should not be.
But I remember of the time I walked alone and I found another way.
I found out now you're gone.
Hey, it's another place in time.
Just another hill that I can climb.
Hey, I don't want to face the world.
So get back on your own and I won't cry.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>