Villain

Bleed The Dream

I could be the villain in your little book of break-ups
[Incomprehensible]
I could be a page in your little book of break-ups
Break ups, break ups
(I'm never letting go)I tear into myself again
My skin rips like paper
I'll never trust myself againYour heart breaks like glass
Your heart breaks like glassI should have been the hero in your little book of make ups
(But that ending wasn't meant to be)
I should have been the figure in your little book of make ups
Make ups, make ups
(I'm never letting go)I tear into myself again
My skin rips like paper
I'll never trust myself againYour heart breaks like glass
And still I find a way to find the brilliance
Of your insight in this lifetimeI won't regret, I won't regret
(I'm never letting go)I tear into myself again
My skin rips like paper
I'll never trust myself againYour heart breaks like glass
Your heart breaks like glass
Your heart breaks like glass
