Butterflies

Tone Damli

Time to wake up
Don't know what to wear
Do my make-up
Then I brush my hair
Read the first scene
As I paint my nails
And suddenly my heart starts beating
I think I need some airLittle frightening
As the lights go down
Almost showtime
Curtains opening now
Spotlight hits you
I lose all my lines
And once again my heart starts beating
I think I need some air to start breathingI'm getting butterflies
I'm floating on a dream
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me
Keep giving me butterfliesIntermission
Love scenes coming up
I am shaking
As the symphony erupts
Will I make it
Or will I fall apart
And once again my heart starts beating
I think I need some air to start breathingI'm getting butterflies
I'm floating on a dream
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me
Keep giving me butterfliesI'm feeling terrified
No control
And now my world is shaking
The curtains close

And it tingles and tickles inside
And my pulse's running highI'm getting butterflies
I'm floating on a dream
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me
Keep giving meI'm getting butterflies
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me, keep
Cause you keep giving me
Keep giving me butterflies
