

I'd Give Anything To Be Your Everything Again

Tracy Lawrence

There's a little house I drive by everyday going into town
And it just kills me to see how he's let it run down
When I built it, to hear you tell it I'd built you a mansion on a hill and even now that's where part of me still lives
(Chorus)
Wish I could hold you and know you still want me
To be the only one on Earth you need
Just to make your dreams come true like I once did
I'd give anything to be your everything again

I know I said I wouldn't call you
I know the trouble it could bring
But I'm sure by now you've told him I don't mean anything
I'll let you go but I want you to know
Before this conversation ends
I'd give anything to be your everything again
(Chorus)
I'd give anything to be your everything again

Songwriters

MARK ALAN SPRINGER, JERY LASETERPublished by

Lyrics Â© BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC, COLTON ENTERTAINMENT LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>