

Uncommonly Good

The Jesus Lizard

I situated myself here about a thousand miles ago, so I'll figure it out in a slow and jagged way

Those friends of mine were always glad to help me through,

Can you tell me where it hurts the most

Right here

Their house was grimy and filthy and dirty, but their hearts were flowing pure and clean

Or so I thought, I'd always believe them, at least that's how it seemed to be

I guess I thought that way mistakenly, oh

They did things to that goat, they did things no one should do

Well I situated myself here about a thousand miles ago, so I'll figure it out in a slow and jagged way

Those friends of mine were always glad to help me through,

Can you tell me where it hurts the most

Right here

Or so I thought, I'd always believe them, at least that's how it seemed to be

I guess I thought that way mistakenly

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>