Yeah you think you got a passion
You think you got the reasons
All your superstitionsYeah you think you got the answers
The panic's in your actions
Reactions of a fascistNow that the battle's won
I think the time has come
Push away thoughts of hate
Pages from an ancient faith
Now that the battle's won
I think the time has come
We don't have to run and hide
We'll stand up tall full of pride
Yeah you think you have a master
A master who disasters
A petty bitch that burns youYeah you think you are a big shot
You build a place for worship
You build a place for judgingNow that the battle's won
I think the time has come
Push away all the hate
Pages from an ancient faith
Now that the battle's won
I think the time has come
We don't have to run and hide
We'll stand up tall full of pride
Now that the battle's won
I think the time has come
Push away all the hate
Pages from an ancient faith
Now that the battle's won
I think the time has come
We don't have to run and hide
We'll stand up tall full of pride!
