

Every Little Thing

Hawk Nelson

I saw her yesterday
And I never felt a feeling like the one I felt today
And now she's takin' over me
I've never met anyone like you
'Cause I never could find the words to write you She's been on my mind
(she's workin' overtime)
She's got perfect reasons, say she loves to talk to Jesus
I think I'll believe her when she says
Life can be so simple if we'd all just learn to pray She's got every little thing I wanted
And it still feels just like the day it started
I'll say goodbye to the broken hearted
And I could never express the way I felt before tonight She sits there all alone
She's reading from a chapter that she sometimes calls her own
And now she's taken over me
This girl I once rejected has now become the girl of my dreams She's got every little thing I wanted
And it still feels just like the day it started
I'll say goodbye to the broken hearted
And I could never express the way I felt before tonight She's not an ordinary girl, see it in her eyes
I'm just an ordinary boy
God must have heard my prayers last night She's been on my mind
(She's workin' overtime)
She's got perfect reasons, say she loves to talk to Jesus
I can't believe her when she says
Life can be so simple if we'd all just learn to pray Every little thing I wanted
And it still feels just like the day it started
So say goodbye to the broken hearted
And I could never express the way I felt before tonight She's not an ordinary girl, see it in her eyes
I'm just an ordinary boy
God must have heard my prayers last night
