

Nothing Everything

Mandy Moore

Tired of waiting, tired of hiding
Went a little late last night
But do you know how it feels under the wheels
Turning in the back of my mind?
We have both been wrong before
Even though my heart is torn
I only want the best for you
Tell me a story, Saturday morning
Has brought a break in the clouds
Before the thunder and rain start up again
I wanna let it all out
We have both been wrong before
Even though my heart is torn
I only want the best for you
You break the walls around me
And take away my pain
If you can do this for me
Oh baby, you can do it for yourself
Out of rotation part of the process
Of building something new
In the darkest of nights, out on thin ice
I'll always be there for you
So wrap me in your arms
And keep me in your heart
I only want the best for you
I only want the best for you
I only want the best for you
I only, I only want the best for you
I only want the best for you
