Losing You

Chester See

last night I heard you praying I can't believe what I heard you saying you were asking for the strength to leave this morning you didn't say goodbye you didn't even look me in the eye you shut that door and I couldn't breathnow I'm the one down on my knees asking for the strength I'll needIt's not in my power to turn back the hours or make this song matter to you If love is the reason then why are you leaving me now what can I do? I'm losing youYou pulled up I saw you dry your eyes took some time before you came inside I knew you had made up your mind You said your heart was somewhere else wasn't sure exactly how you felt there was something missing that you had to findI told you that I understood only cause I knew I shouldIt's not in my power to turn back the hours or make this song matter to you
what can I do? I'm losing youI know that time takes control of the wheel but right now I feel like nothing can heal losing you. I'm losing you
