Dead Set

Sandbox Rebellion

Stuck in my bedroom with nothing
But a voice in my head
Once my feeling was dead set
(Watch my will begin to fade)
What did you say, am I restless?
What can I do to relieve it?
As my mind just melts away
Once I say, I can't be saved
No more change
I dodge the grave almost every day
One single life needs not to die
For such a cheap price, for one last flight
God save the child who lives like a whore
(I made it through yesterday)
Once I say, I can't be saved
No more change
I dodge the grave almost every day
(Liar)
Now my mind is at standstill
As I breathe to get away
Twice my feeling was dead set
(I watched my life begin to change)
What can I do to remove this?
What can you do to relieve it?

As my mind just melts away
One single life needs not to die
For such a cheap price, for one last flight
God save the child who lives like a whore
(I made it through yesterday)
Once I say, I can't be saved
No more change
I dodge the grave almost every day
(Liar)
Once I say, I can't be saved
No more change
I dodge the grave almost every day
One single life needs not to die
For such a cheap price, for one last flight

God save the child
Once I say, I can't be saved
No more change
I dodge the grave almost every day
(Liar)
Once I say, I can't be saved
No more change
I dodge the grave almost every day
