

How Nice to See You

Echo Orbiter

Today is shaping up to be the day you've waited for
Face yourself and shine a smile into the looking glass
Open up at last expose your lasting spirit (it's alright)
To know who you really are

Nice to see you, nice to see you, nice to see you, nice to see you
(Capture the return; How are you doing?; Now that you've come back here)

Rumors of your death have been exaggerated
However, if you were dead, I'm sure to be the last to know
Pick yourself up from your bed and let the world know (letting go)
A costly secret to unveil

Nice to see you, nice to see you, nice to see you, nice to see you
(Fill in the lost time; How are you feeling now that you've come back here?)

Yesterday has proved to be the last day of a year
Lacking contact with a world you held so dear, when you were here
