

Love Is Just a Farytale

Kaedyn Kashmir

To my surprise, you looked at me last night
You could tell there were tears in my eyes
You took me into your arms and whispered softly in my ears
"It will be alright", Was it all just a fairytale?

I've got a loose grip on reality
Every dream becomes so real
But in the morning when I wake up
I know itâ€™s just a fairytale.

I know I can be a little selfish
Iâ€™ve broken a few hearts
I know that Iâ€™m useless when I do
And its tearing me apart
I thought we could make it through this battle
You would protect your princess one more time
Whereâ€™s my knight in shining armor
I guess love is just a fairytale.

Just a fairytale.

Wind swims through my hair
I blow a kiss across the water
I know somewhere you'll find it lying there
I wait for hours, even days for you to answer me
I shed a silent tear and wonder if you were ever here

I've got a loose grip on reality
Every dream becomes so real
But in the morning when I wake up
I know itâ€™s just a fairytale.

I know I can be a little selfish
Iâ€™ve broken a few hearts
I know that Iâ€™m useless when I do
And its tearing me apart
I thought we could make it through this battle
You would protect your princess one more time
Whereâ€™s my knight in shining armor

I guess love is just a fairytale.

Iâ€™ll never forget, that moment we first met, You rode up on your white horse and made me smile..Like a fairy tale.
