Your Arizona Room

Everclear

Just another night in a bar somewhere
Just another blond girl
Yeah, such a pretty blond girl
I saw a light behind those cold dark eyes
That you show to a cold dark world
Yeah, then something came over me
When I touched your face
It took me to a place
That I've been afraid to go
Every time we talk
I find another piece of the puzzle of me
That I never really got to know
Sometimes it is so easy to believe
That a broken thing can never be whole
Just another night in a hotel room
Just another bad dream
Can you believe I had another bad dream?
We were high on a hill
Above a big black cloud
That turned into a swarm of bees
Then something came over me
Then you held my hand and
They faded into summertime
When you smiled at me
Every time we talk
I find another piece of the puzzle of me
Yeah, that I never really got to know
Sometimes it is so easy to believe
That a broken heart can never be whole
Give your heart to me
I'll give my heart to you
If you believe in me
I'll do anything you want me to do

We can stay in bed
Until the sun turns into the moon
I will hold you and smile
Safe in your Arizona room
Inside your Arizona room

There is nothing I'd rather do
Then be alone with you
Inside your Arizona room
There is nothing I'd rather do
Then waste away the day
Inside your Arizona room
There's nothing I'd rather do
No, there's nothing I'd rather do
Then spend the day alone with you
You give your heart to me
And I'd give my heart to you
If you believe in me
I'll do anything you want me to do
Nothing I'd rather do
We can waste away the day
There is nothing I'd rather do
