Room Without a Key

Rubies

Youâ€™re holding back, youâ€™re full of doubt
And Iâ€™m taking notice
This house without you is not a home to me

But you creep around, donâ€™t make a sound
If you hide away Iâ€™m gonna find you Still waiting there in a room without a key

Aaah, aaah, aaah, aaah,

Words can break this heart of mine
But Iâ€™m good at pretending.
Itâ€™s true, what they say, weâ€™re not meant to be alone

So listening close, these (endosome?) tears
And everything to offer
Still Iâ€™m alone, noone to kiss goodnight.

Chorus:
But I could show you how the (waves?) grow
I might be more than youâ€™re after my darling or maybe not enough

Come on Iâ€™m sitting on the cliff side
Come on I am walking down the other side
(I really didnâ€™t think youâ€™d wait for me Youâ€™re always acting like youâ€™re to busy)
And if we meet up itâ€™s got to be late tonight
I wanna wait to the feelings right (We swim away, against the flow the only one who wants to take it so slow)

Chorus

Oh baby Iâ€™m just too much for you
or maybe not enough
Maybe Iâ€™m just too much for you

Lyrics submitted by Julia JÃ¶rnbo.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/