

Committed to the Ground

Torch Runner

committed to the ground for the sake of the life it has given me. there is no person to pay, no figures to behold.
the life that is given is the same that I will return. I am not waiting to be born again, and I am not destined for any fucking thing.
my unbroken comfort.
I am not waiting to be born again, and I am not destined for any fucking thing. what once represented an unending fear now serves as my proudest truth-
my complete nothingness.
may I return to that from which i came.
taking nothing, and leaving everything.
I am committed to the ground.
