Heart Attack

The Veer Union

Take your knife and pull it out of your life
Seeing as how soon will know
A suicide of your soul
Wish that you could hear
No one can save you now
This is what I feared
No one can save you nowOne day everything will turn to black
Reach inside you like a heart attack
The shadows pulling you within
Can't you see you're losing everything?
Slowly you will slip away
Until there's nothing left to see
No one can save you now
No one can save you now
I look into your vacant eyes
And see you're flawed by design
I scream inside your broken mind
Is there nothing left here to find?
Wish that you could hear
No one can save you now
This is what I feared
No one can save you nowOne day everything will turn to black
Reach inside you like a heart attack
The shadows pulling you within
Can't you see you're losing everything?
Slowly you will slip away
Until there's nothing left to see
No one can save you nowNo one can save you now
This is what I feared
No one can save you now
One day everything will turn to black
Reach inside you like a heart attack
The shadows pulling you within
Can't you see you're losing everything?
Slowly you will slip away
Until there's nothing left to see
No one can save you now
No one can save you now from yourself
No one can save you now

I wish that someone could save you now
I wish that someone could save you now from yourself
I wish that someone could save you now from yourself.
