

Silence of the Darkness

Kamelot

I don't dare to take it slowly
'Cause time may pass me by
Rest is like a new born morning
I am hard to satisfy Will you take me away? In the silence of the darkness
I can't pretend I'm wide awake
Afraid I could go under In the silence of the darkness
I stumble for the light of day
But the journey never ends I can paint the world with flowers
That grows by heaven's gate
Reckless like the stormy ocean
I could cover them with hate But it all sounds the same In the silence of the darkness
I can't pretend I'm wide awake
Afraid I could go under In the silence of the darkness
I stumble for the light of day
But the journey never ends In the silence of the darkness
I can't pretend I'm wide awake
Afraid I could go under In the silence of the darkness
I stumble for the light of day
But the journey never ends
