My Son

Sicko

I feel sinking on the rise, and the faith shines from your eyes, my son how could you ever know?My own fear of failure, seems to surround your life life to you is nothing, to me it's fear and burden ProphesyAnd the devotion she once gave to me, is gone and laid at your feet, and I am left to sit and think, on the greatest thing we... we ever didYou've got my eyesMy own fear of failure, seems to surround your
life to you is nothing,
It's a prophesyYou've got my eyes
