The Venom Inside

Chimaira

The venom inside turned me into the enemy
Turned into what I hate
My apathy got the best of me
Blood boiled, I lost my wayI never thought I'd be the one to blame
Have to live with constant shame
Everything that I put inside
Just to feel numbI tried to escape, push it away
Tried to hide the venom inside
Tried to escape, push it away
Tried to hide the venom insideThis was nothing but moral abuse
Guess, I just needed something new
What could I gain from solitude
Or acting like a fool?I tried to escape, push it away
Tried to hide the venom inside
Tried to escape, push it away
Tried to hide the venom insideDisconnected, apathetic
It's so pathetic to be this frantic
I needed help, I needed help
Like methadone for an addictI tried to escape, push it away
Tried to hide the venom inside
Tried to escape, push it away
Tried to hide the venom inside
