

Once

Joanie Sommers

Once embraced, can't ever be let go
Once revealed, can't ever be not shown
 Once believed, can't ever lose faith
 Once shared, can't ever be separate
Once sown, once can't ever be not reaped
 Like the dawn of a brand new day
 With the power of deity
 Well, I can feel it inside of me
 Feel it, well, can you feel it?
Once born, can't ever be not conceived
 Once present, can't ever be past
Once first, once can't ever be not ever last
 Returning home of the Prodigal
 Holding the intangible
 To believe in a miracle
 Believe it, can you believe it?
 Have you ever been touched?
 Once whoa, really touched?
 Could it ever be too much?
 Whoa oh oh, can you tell me?
 Once seen, can't ever lose sight
Once dawn, can't ever be not light
 Once, once felt, once felt
 Can't ever be untouched
 The assurance only hope can bring
 With the conviction of the unseen
 See it's greater than everything
 See it, oh, can you see it?
 Have you ever been touched?
Once whoa oh, really, really touched?
 Could it ever be too much?
 Whoa oh oh, can you tell me?
Have you ever really touched love once?
 Oh, have you ever been touched?
Once whoa oh oh, really touched?
 Could it ever be too much?
 I don't know, did you tell me?
 Have you ever really touched
Once, whoa oh really, really touched?

Could it ever be too much?
Oh, somebody tell me
Have you ever really touched
Love once?
Ah, have you ever really touched
Love once?
Have you ever really touched love
Touched love?
Oh, love once
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
