Little Honey

Jode Gannon

We share our scars, we share our dreams ,we share our hopes ,we share our needs
But I hope you seen the bigger picture when it was right in front of you
I was just a deer in headlights and you just drove on through
But you cant break whats already broken even if you tried

Chorus

I've got your time, your money, but you've got my heart little honey
You might think you're funny
Give me back my heart little honey

Woah oah oah oah
Woah oah oah oah
Give me back my heart little honey

Just remember I was the one, to pick you up when you were down
And I was the one, to make you smile and never leave you with a frown
Just remember I was the one, that would wipe away your tears
And you were the one, who wasted all these years

Do you need a shoulder to rest your head on when you're sad
Or a hand to hold when things are getting bad
Did my hugs keep you warm and make you feel safe
Were my words enough to get you through the day

Let us be free, let us run wild
No more games, acting like a little child
These times arent meant to be hard
Ripping my heart out like opening a card

I wanna scream so the world can hear
I hope my voice burns your hear
This was never ever meant to be funny
But you wont win the war little honey

Chorus

I've got your time, your money, but you've got my heart little honey
You might think you're funny

Give me back my heart little honey

Woah oah oah oah
Woah oah oah oah
Give me back my heart little honey

Lyrics Submitted by Alice Read

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/