

Without A View

Tommy Stinson

Lookin' for a little peace
Maybe some days
You don't need to hear the truth There's a place for every war
And every other tear
A place for everyone
And everyone's fears Do you trust yourself at night
Do you trust yourself at all
Take another look outside
Do you see it raining
Or maybe even worse Not in my house
Not in my room
Not in my home
My home without a view Got to take a walk outside
Got to hear the traffic
I need a little noise
A murder on the bus
A dealer and his shame
A baby that just wants a different name
Do you ever even think twice
Do you ever even think at all Everybody's talking loud
And all at once
With a poison in their tongues There's gotta be a better view
